

FRESH WATER BATHS AT PRETTY LAGOON

The plans for the new bath houses at Lagoon have been completed and the construction work will begin at once. The new bath houses will be erected at the edge of the island in the form of a cross, with four entrances. The plans provide for 16 bath rooms on two floors. The rooms for ladies will be on the upper floor. The plans were drawn under the supervision of Architect L. D. Martin and approved yesterday by the Bamberger interests.

It was announced that work on the concrete foundation will be begun at once and that carpenter work will be done early next spring, in order that the bath houses will be ready for use by the time the resort is opened for the season. The rooms are so arranged that each one is visible from the check room of the place.

In order that the bathing will be facilitated a portion of the lake will be walled up with concrete and a sand bottom provided. The water will be slightly warmed by means of a steam boiler. The bathhouse, with the other incidental improvements planned, will cost $25,000.

PARCEL POSTS QUESTION

Postmaster General Gives His Ideas and Also Talks of Postal Savings Banks.

Philadelphia, Oct. 26.—Postmaster General George von L. Meyer, at a dinner at the Union League club tonight, made an address in which he called attention to recommendations which he proposes making in his annual report for the consideration of the next congress. On the question of parcel posts, he said:

"I shall recommend the same rate, 12 cents a pound, and the same limit of weight for parcels, whether intended for points in this country or abroad, which means a reduction of 4 cents a pound and an increase in the maximum weight to eleven pounds."

Taking up the rural parcels post question, he said:

"I shall recommend a parcels post system on the rural delivery routes, a special rate to be charged on packages for delivery from the distributing offices of the rural route, or if mailed by a patron of any rural route, for delivery to a patron on the same route or at the distributing office of said route. The rate would be 5 cents for the first pound, and 2 cents for each additional pound up to eleven pounds. This will be a great boon to the farmers."

Regarding postal savings banks, the postmaster general said: "As an evidence that it is not the desire of the government to compete with the private savings banks in obtaining deposits of the people, I shall advocate a rate of interest of 2 per cent per annum, or 1 per cent semi-annually, and a limit of $500, not more than $250 to be deposited in any one year. My own belief is that, far from its being a detriment to the establishment of banks, it would be in the end an advantage. Now, in order to get this money back into the channels of trade, I purpose to ask congress for authority to place the savings in the national banks."

OLD-TIME RESIDENT DEAD

B. H. Schettler, Well-known Banker of Salt Lake, Succumbs After Long Illness of Asthma.

Asthma and the complications which follow the disease caused the death of B. H. Schettler at midnight Friday night. He had been suffering from that ailment for many years, but it was only a few days ago that he was compelled to keep to his home for some time.

He was a native of Rhine, Prussia, Germany, where he was born Jan. 18, 1835. He immigrated to this country when about 20 years of age and secured employment as bookkeeper in a bank. He became a member of the Mormon church in 1850 and came to Salt Lake. He has made his residence here ever since.

Mr. Schettler was one of the organizers of the Zion's Savings Bank & Trust company and was for many years its cashier. Later he started a banking house of his own, which failed about two years ago. A large family survives him. The funeral will be held from a residence, 217 B street, today at 2 o'clock.

WILL RE-ENTER BIG NINE

Michigan Decides to Play Football With Her Old Rules.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—According to a canvass of the situation made by Director Lewis O. Gillespie of Northwestern university this fall Michigan's re-entrance to Western college circles is assured. The statement comes with the call for the semi-annual session of the "Big Nine" conference to be held Nov. 2.

The joint that the football team of the University of Michigan received last year when it was east to meet the eleven of the University of Pennsylvania still rankles in the hearts of the Wolverines, and accordingly every effort is being made this year to produce a team which will be able to wipe out the defeat when the Quakers came west next month.

Michigan has taken upon itself to defend the football reputation of the west, against the east, and it preparations go on for anything the east could not wish for a more able champion.

The game with Pennsylvania being considered the most important of Michigan's season, even more so than the meeting with Vanderbilt. Coach Voss is sparing no pains to reach the strongest combination possible, and as a result he has made some startling shifts in the regular eleven already.

IMPROVING AN OPPORTUNITY.

(Home Magazine.)

Here is a story which William Jennings Bryan tells:

"There was once a funeral out in Nebraska, and the preacher who had been asked to deliver the funeral oration was a stranger in town and didn't know the dear departed would be heard gladly.

Three or four arose in turn and paid tribute to the memory of the woman who had passed beyond. Then there was a pause. Finally an old brother arose and said:

"Well, if you're all through speaking about the departed sister, I will now make a few remarks on the tariff."

THE WAY THE CZAR PROPOSED.

(Tit-Bits.)

It is a pretty story which surrounds the betrothal of the present Czar Nicholas and the Czarina, for, although the great question had been planned and thought out for them by their respective parents, they both were determined to have a say in the matter.

That they were in love with each other every one knew, and between themselves a mutual understanding had been arrived at in the summer house of York cottage; but as Czarowitz the future Czar had to make the formal and old fashioned offer of his hand.

"The Emperor, my father," he said, addressing the blushing bride-to-be, "has commanded me to make you the offer of my hand and heart."

"My grandmother, the Queen," replied

VICTIM FINDS TWO HUNGRY BANDITS EATING SANDWICHES

Bad luck pursues Salt Lake's highwaymen.

Last night they met with another discouraging experience.

Dave Webster, a negro, while on his way to his home in Donaldson's court about 11:30 o'clock, was halted by two men in First South street, between Third and Fourth East streets. Both were masked and armed with revolvers. Webster tried to escape, but as one stood at each side of him he was brought to a halt at the first and he took to flight. He was then carefully searched. The robbers found a pair of dice, $1.20 and a cheap watch. They returned the time piece in disgust.

"Dig up something valuable or you'll make us desperate," exclaimed one of the highwaymen who made the fruitless haul-up on Friday.

After they had released Webster, the robbers walked westward along First South street. Webster continued his homeward way, but met Claude T. Miller of 135 Center street at the corner of Fourth South street and told the story of the robbery.

They decided to shadow the highwaymen. They followed two men, whom Webster declared were the thieves, into Commercial street, where the alleged bandits stopped at a lunch counter for sandwiches. Leaving Miller to watch the men, Webster hurried after them in search of a policeman. Finding Patrolman McCormick close by, McCormick seized the two of the two alleged highwaymen, but the smaller man ran away. This left the policeman in a difficult predicament. He could not release his prisoner and did not wish to see the fugitive escape, so he followed in pursuit of the man in flight, dragging his prisoner with him. The fugitive dashed into Flinn alley and managed to get away in the darkness. McCormick not being able to use his revolver owing to the crowds upon the street.

At the police headquarters the prisoner gave the name of Tom Parker and said he was a laborer. A revolver and 80 cents were found in his possession.

Parker is a tall man, while his partner was short. The police at once dubbed the team "the long and the short man."

HORSE OWNERS CLEAN UP MILLIONS

New York, Oct. 26.—Some idea of the magnitude of horse racing in America is gained from a report of the earnings of thirty leading owners, made public today. The grand total is $1,766,881. This in itself would be a great sum, but it only represents a very small number of horse owners that have won money on the turf since January 1 to October 19. In the aggregate the winnings of all owners reaches $5,000,000. This sum represents only the amount paid out by racing associations to owners. The money expended by citizens of this country on the sport of kings is not included.

The sport is well named, for it takes a king's income to maintain it. A conservative follower of the game with a penchant for figures said that $25,000,000 was paid out yearly by racegoers to racing associations and bookmakers. This represents bets, admission prices and railroad fares to the tracks.

NERVE OF A PROFESSION.

(Dasko's Story.)

The doctor was seated in his consultation room in a mountain resort where he practiced his profession. He was a young man, a few years past his majority. The last patient admitted was a burly man, who sat quietly in the chair opposite the doctor's desk until the latter looked up and asked: "What can I do for you?" The man drew a paper out of his pocket and handed it to the doctor, who read: "I want $5000.00." After a pause of a few minutes the written request was laid on the desk and the doctor said: "I have no money, but if I had I would not give it to you." "We shall see," said the alleged patient, drawing from the same pocket a large revolver. "So we shall," said the doctor, pointing a weapon of equal size at the intruder. The two sat several minutes, when the burly man lowered his weapon, saying, "I shall not harm you," and by a sudden thrust of his hand he pushed the doctor out of the room. Professor Wovalewski said he would have followed the man if his revolver had been loaded.
